It was taken down in short-hand by a first-class reporter, and it appears revised in its present form at the request of many friends. The vast importance of the subject to which it relates can scarcely be over-estimated, and although a singular amount of delusion is abroad in regard to it, it is hoped that wiser counsels may yet prevail. That any one who, having read history, has travelled over Ireland, and had an opportunity of comparing that fertile but unhappy country with other lands, can have any serious doubt as to the leading cause of its social degradation, seems incredible. Other causes, no doubt, there are, but let any one compare Belfast with Galway, Protestant Ulster with the Popish south and west of Ire land, and it seems impossible to deny that the same cause which has degraded Mexico and Spain, Austria and Italy, has visibly stamped its impress on Ireland. The Baron Dupin, writing in regard to the Industry of Nations, says: - The Attica of the north, with its naked mountains, its frozen uplands, and its sky of iron Scotland sends to the different nations more productions of its soil and its arts than the vast country of Mexico, with its silver mines, worked by hundreds, its eternal spring, its sunshine like that...
