And hearts resolved, and hands prepared, The blessings they enjoy to guard. Loch Lomond has several tributaries, the principal of which are the Fruin, Gudrick, Douglas, Luss, Finlass, Glenfalloch, and Inveruglass. The trout in all these streams run very small, though numerous. Anything in the shape and size of a fly will tempt them. Ten or twelve dozen of trout may be taken out of any of these feeders, in a very short space of time. To ramble on their banks is most delightful. The scenery in every direction is picturesque and imposing. Should the angler feel disposed, a visit to the lofty Ben Lomond will afford him inexpressible delight. In the immediate vicinity, a few lines were written on a pane of glass, in an inn, which are very descriptive, both of the mountain itself and the best mode of ascending it. Stranger, if oer...
